REMOVAL OF THE REMAINS OF GEN. ALBERT SYDNEY JOHNSTON.

The Solemnities of the Occasion.

From the N. O. Crescent, 25th.]

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon the remains of Gen. Albert Sydney Johnston left the St. Louis Cemetery, No. 2, in which they have hitherto reposed, and were consigned to the committee sent hither to receive them by the state of Texas.

Two days previously the tomb in which the remains were deposited was opened by Mr. Thomas Bothick, the undertaker, to whom the funeral services were intrusted.

The body, it was now seen, had been buried in a zinc case and a mahogany coffin. The latter was found to have been greatly decayed during the past four years. But, to understand its condition it should be remembered that the body had been only buried about a month before the arrival of Gen. Butler in this city, and that it was to him that the idea had occurred of instituting a search for treasure in the resting place of the dead. Acting upon this thought a provost guard appeared before the present sexton (according to the statement which the latter now makes), and ordered him to conduct the party to the grave of the departed soldier. The sexton did so; he was then made to open the tomb, and the coffin was removed therefrom. Without waiting for the formality of unscrewing the lid, it was violently pried open; one of the side pieces was forced from its fastenings, and it was not until a hole was cut in the zinc case, which was placed inside of the coffin, that the curiosity of the party was satisfied. The coffin, thus partially destroyed, was then returned to its resting-place, and the act was subsequently recognized by the then existing authorities, by the payment of the ordinary fees to the sexton for his services upon the occasion.

The coffin and zinc case, when disinterred, still betrayed the rude treatment it had received, and as it was otherwise almost destroyed, a new one was provided, made of black walnut, covered with velvet and adorned with silver mountings. About an hour previous to the time appointed for its departure from the graveyard, the coffin was exposed to public view, and was soon covered with chaplets and bouquets strewn by woman's hand.

The committee from Texas appointed to receive the remains of Gen. Johnston, had called upon Mayor Monroe and stated to him that it was the wish of the deceased, expressed before his death, and also the wish of his family, and the people of Texas, that he should be buried in the state of his adoption. To this, immediate assent was given, and at the hour appointed, the distinguished gentlemen of Texas and this city who had been requested to act as pall-bearers, proceeded to the St. Louis cemetery with no more display than what is made by a half a dozen carriages. When the latter reached the tomb, not more than a hundred people (most of them ladies), had gathered there in advance. However, the space immediately around the tomb (it was in Mayor Monroe's that the body had previously rested) was extremely limited, and for that reason some of the adjoining tombstones were occupied by eager spectators.

The usual religious exercises of the Episcopal church were read, commencing "I am the resurrection and life," by Rev. J. W. Beckwith, of Trinity church, assisted by Rev. Dr. Leacock, of Christ church.

The following named gentlemen acted as pall-bearers: Gen. Beauregard, Gen. Bragg, Gen. Hood, Gen. Longstreet, Gen. Dick Taylor, Gen. S. B. Buckner, Gen. Hays, Gen. Maury, Gen. Gibson, Gen. G. W. Chilton, Gen. N. P. Luckett, Col. Geo. Deas, Col. Ashbel Smith, Col. D. W. Jones, Maj. Tom Ochiltree.

Reaching the street, the body was deposited in a hearse made of black cypress, very richly mounted with silver, and which had never before been used. The silver-mounted harness was also new, and with the black horses used upon the occasion, constituted an equipage which was fitting to convey the remains of a departed hero.

The crowd had now swelled to perhaps a thousand strong, and a tribute of respect was here paid to the memory of the great leader which has never before been witnessed in this city—not even when Col. Chas. Dreux was interred—the first of the war victims from the state, and one of the most popular men that has ever lived in our midst. The mark of respect which was shown upon the present occasion was the marching in procession, and on foot, of the ladies of the city.

In this extraordinary procession we observed many ladies of advanced years, and all, young and old, walked through mud and mire in the middle of the streets. Such a spectacle has never been seen in New Orleans within our observation. We are told that at the funeral of the wife of an illustrious general, which occurred in the midst of the war, there was a like exhibition of womanly sentiment, a sentiment expressing admiration for heroism and respect for every one allied to the hero; but with the exception of that sad solemnity, which we did not witness, no such spectacle as that of yesterday has been seen in New Orleans during the last quarter of a century, and perhaps never before.

No one, so far as we could observe, rode, excepting the ministers who officiated, and one of the generals who had lost the use of his limbs. The rest followed, although the way was a long one, on foot. At every square the crowd rapidly increased, until it seemed to absorb all of the passing population of the streets. At one time it must have extended in length almost a mile. It was composed, without exception, of the most respectable population of the city. It certainly was the saddest we have ever seen. There was not an exclamation or a shout upon the streets as it passed; there was no appeal to the emotions in any dirgelike music; there was scarcely any whispering or conversation in the immense throng that followed. The fact that the remains of a great man were being removed, who had once eminently commanded respect, and that no display in music, colors or processional bands had been attempted, appealed more strongly to every beholder's sympathy than if the most imposing funeral rites had been prepared. It was this feeling, doubtless, that prompted the ladies to walk as mourners and to show for the memory of the deceased the most touching evidence of their respect ever yet witnessed in this city.

The procession proceeded along Conti, Rampart, Canal and Chartres, to the ferry near the Jackson square. The body was then conveyed down the river to the Opelousas depot, which place it will leave to-morrow morning. It will arrive the same night at Brashear city, the next day at Galveston, and from thence will be conveyed, by way of Houston, Washington, LaGrange and Bastrop to Austin.

THE OPENING OF THE AMAZON TO THE FLAGS OF ALL NATIONS.

The Persia brings us an important item of telegraphic news, (per English steamer of 8th December from Rio de Janeiro,) dispatched from Lisbon to London on the 28th of December. The bill passed at the last session of the Brazilian parliament to open certain ports on the river Amazon to all nations, has become a law, and henceforth the largest river of the word, the Para, or "king of waters," in the language of the Brazilian aborigines, is to be a highway for internal navigation from the Atlantic to the Andes. The importance of this measure cannot be over-estimated, whether we look at it as resulting from the enlightened progress of young Brazil, led on by their progressive emperor, or whether we look on its future bearings upon more than two-thirds—and the best two-thirds—of South America. The immediate results may not be what enthusiasts dream, but when we reflect that a single line of steamers, sustained by a heavy subsidy from the Brazilian government, has in ten years trebled the exports from Para, we may look for an increase of commerce on the Amazon. Still it will be many a year before the wild forest valley of the Amazon (which, in its whole extent, is larger than all of the United States east of the Rocky mountains, and contains but 200,000 inhabitants,) will be developed in any degree commensurate with its grand capabilities.

Brazil is only carrying out on the Amazon what she did fifteen years ago on the river Platte, in her dominions, when she made Albuquerque, two thousand miles from the ocean, a port of entry. Certain ports on the Amazon, some four in number, are declared ports of entry, and are subject to the custom laws as the maritime ports.

But Brazil is not alone benefitted. Peruvian steamers run from Tabitinga, in Brazil (two thousand miles from the Atlantic), up the Peruvian waters for a thousand miles, and in 1864 a small steamer reached a point within ninety leagues of the Pacific. To Hon. Travares Bastos, a young Brazilian statesman, not yet thirty years of age, belongs the great honor of having persistently brought this matter before the parliament for the last six years, and one of his great arguments has been the benefits to the neighboring countries. One-half of Bolivia, two-thirds of Peru, one-half of New Granada, three-fourths of Ecuador, and a portion of Venezuela are drained by the Amazon and its tributaries.

The opening of the Amazon marks an important era for South America and the world.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

SEWING MACHINES!

Why Grover & Baker's Machine is Best

1. It is more simple, durable, and less liable to derangement than others.
2. It sews from ordinary spools, and no re-winding of thread is necessary.
3. It sews with equal facility all fabrics, the most delicate and the heaviest, and with all kinds of thread, silk, cotton or linen.
4. Its seam is so strong and elastic that it never breaks, even on the bias.
5. It fastens both ends of the seam by its own operation.
6. Its seam, though cut at every sixth stitch, remains firm, and neither runs nor ravels in its wear.
7. Its seam is more plump and beautiful, and retains its plumpness after washing better than any other.
8. Its seam can be removed in altering garments, after proper inspection, without picking or cutting them.
9. Watching and varying the tensions upon the threads, necessary in other machines, is unnecessary in this. The tension being once adjusted on the Grover & Baker Machine, any amount of sewing may be done without change.
10. It makes beautiful embroidery without any change or arrangement, simply by inserting threads of suitable sizes and colors for this purpose. It is the only machine that both embroiders and sews perfectly.

The attention of Tailors, Manufacturers of Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Carriage Trimmers and all others requiring the best and most effective Lock-stitch Machines, is invited to our new Shuttle Machine, especially adapted to Manufacturing purposes.

DEAR SIR:
We would respectfully call your attention to our card above. Having been long engaged in the Grocery and Cotton Factorage business in this place, with superior facilities for the transaction of the same, and an intimate knowledge of the wants of the planting community, we feel confident we can conduct your business to your advantage and entire satisfaction. Our GROCERY DEPARTMENT, with the increased facilities at our command, together with our long experience in the trade, we can guarantee to our friends and customers a full and varied stock, which will enable us at all times to fill their orders promptly and at the lowest market rates. One of our house will devote his entire time and attention to the sale of COTTON. LIBERAL CASH ADVANCES MADE ON Cotton and other Produce consigned to me. BAGGING, ROPE AND OTHER SUPPLIES furnished at the lowest market prices. All consignments of Cotton insured unless otherwise instructed.

The disastrous results of the late war having forced me to dispose of most of my property, I have concluded to undertake this business, here in the midst of my old friends, for the purpose of making an honest living for myself and family by my own labor, and to retrieve, as far as it may be possible, the losses entailed by the late war. To my old friends, and to all, who may feel disposed to give me their business, I pledge my personal attention to its efficient transaction. se22

THE SENTIMENT THAT WINS OUR HEARTS.

It is a well known fact that we have not been slow to censure where we thought it was deserved, and we have been equally as quick to praise any sentiment which we deemed was worthy of it. Below we give an extract from an editorial in the Rochester Democrat, one of the most rampant radical sheets in the north, that will be sure to touch the heart of every southerner. Give us more of such sentiments, and the bond that holds the North and South together will gradually grow stronger, until it will resume the fraternal feelings that existed before so many acrimonious recriminations took place. The sentiment here expressed will find an echo of love from every heart in the south:

> The distress in the south has fallen chiefly on women and children, the widows and orphans of those who perished in the war. Their condition is such that without help from the north it is probable that many of them will actually die of cold and hunger. We hope that help will be liberally afforded not only to Atlanta but to every part of the south where women and children are starving. There is a movement on foot to send relief to the destitute Greeks of Candia. But Greeks at our door, our neighbors and our countrymen have the first claim upon our charity. Immediate measures should be taken for their relief before anything is sent to strangers five thousand miles away.

We honor the soul that dictated those lines. The Southern heart can be easily won by kindness, but never driven by force. Why should there not be the good old feeling existing between us? We are a people of the common parent–of the same blood and same kindred. The bravery of each has been proven on a hundred bloody battlefields. Let our enmity be turned against a common enemy. This can be done only when these ranting, puritanical radicals will attend to their own business at home, and allow us to mark out our own path in peace. In this way only can we live happily together. But you cannot win us back by threats and insults. Give us kind words and meet us like brothers. We met you on the field and never flinched. We fought you a fight such as the history of the world has never seen before, either for gallantry or daring. Learn to honor us for our courage, our perseverance, and our devotion to any cause we promise our faith to, and our glory shall be your victory, and your conquest our triumph. The victory of one shall be the glory of the other. This can be done only when you allow each State to rule itself, subject to the restrictions of the Constitution, without any interference from outside communities. Give us this, and more of such sentiments as the Democrat has expressed, and we "may be happy yet."

PROSPERITY AND THE POSTOFFICE.

There are various signs which tell the prosperity of a city. Its progress is marked in many ways, but surely none give a better evidence than the number of letters delivered and sent away. The white-winged messenger tells the many orders and the vast amount of business that is transacted. People write now-a-days for purely business affairs, and though many letters of friendship and love may be found among the multitude of letters that are daily sent away, yet the greater majority are those that speak of business between merchant and tradesmen. In a new place like our own letters of the latter quality predominate more largely than they do in more populous cities. It will be seen from the following, which is the postoffice report of the free delivery system for the month of last December, that Memphis stands as the eleventh city in the United States. This is not only a sign of our great commercial prosperity, but also indicates that our people are of a most intelligent class, especially, when we take the comparison as regards to population it stands first in the list. We can also boast of our letter carriers, for we have only eleven, while ten other first class cities that average from twelve to twenty-one carriers are far below us in the number of letters. As a matter of interest we append the official report to the Department of the various cities:

After reading this list we may well feel satisfied with our importance as a city both in an intelligent and commercial view.

PROGRESS.

It is stated that a proposition is before the Kansas legislature to give all persons over eighteen years of age, regardless of sex or color, the elective franchise. To which the Baltimore Transcript replies: This is carrying out the radical theory with thoroughness and consistency. If negroes are allowed to vote, why not women? The female sex has as much intelligence and more virtue than the male. How would the radicals like the southern states to adopt the system? We observe that a progressive in New Jersey advises them to do so as a matter of expediency. He says that the eight millions of white men and white women in the southern states, voting together, as they would, would vote down the four millions of black men and black women, and thus render negro suffrage practically worthless. There is no probability that the southern states will follow his advice, but if they should, the radical engineers would be hoisted with their own petard. However, let us have progress if we have nothing else. We confess our anxiety for progress. We want to get to the end of our journey, and rest from our travels.

DISTINGUISHED CHARACTERS IN TROUBLE.

The aristocratic "niggers" seem to be coming to grief. Last week "GEORGE WASHINGTON" was convicted in Richmond for stealing a lot of old iron, and "JAMES K. POLK" for a similar freedom with other people's property. "HORACE GREELEY" was found guilty of murder, in Charleston, on Monday, and will soon expiate a life of rascality on the gallows. In New Orleans, "ANDREW JACKSON" was in limbo for robbing a hen roost. We advise the colored gentry to select, hereafter, such names as BEN. BUTLER, THAD. STEVENS, CHAS. SUMNER, JAMES ASHLEY, etc.–they may prove more lucky in their efforts upon character.

Marking Clothing.

Linen goods are now marked in Paris by means of a photograph likeness of the owner upon some part of the goods, which, it is said, is no way affected by washing. It might have been a great saving of table and bed linen had the likeness of Washington, for instance, been photographed upon that kind of goods belonging to the government, and in use in the White house before the assassination.

EX-PRESIDENT DAVIS.

A Washington letter to the Baltimore Gazette, says: "CHAS. O'CONNOR and J. G. SHEA, Esqs., counsel for Mr. DAVIS, are in the city. Mr. HORACE GREELEY is also here. It is further known that Mr. GREELEY had an interview with the president yesterday, and interviews with Mr. DAVIS' counsel, this morning. From these facts the quid nunes have conjectured that the state prisoner at Fortress Monroe is about either to be released on parole or bail, or that his case is on the eve of being disposed of in some way; and it must be confessed that the facts warrant a fair inference that this long delayed act of sheer justice is at last about to be performed."

DUST RETURNING TO DUST.

It is asserted by scientific writers that the number of persons who have existed on our globe since the beginning of time amounts to 36,627,843,273,075,256. These figures, when divided by 3,095,000–the number of square leagues on the globe–leave 11,320,689,732 square miles of land; which, being divided as before, give 1,314,622,076 persons to each square mile. If we reduce these miles to square rods, the number will be 1,853,174,600,000; which, divided in like manner, will give 1283 inhabitants to each square rod; and these being reduced to feet, will give about five persons to each square foot of terra firma. It will thus be perceived that our earth is a vast cemetery. On each square rod of it 1283 human beings lie buried, each rod being scarcely sufficient for ten graves, with each grave containing one hundred and twenty-eight persons. The whole surface of our globe, therefore, has been dug over one hundred and twenty-eight times to bury its dead! How literally true the declaration of the poet:

"There's not a dust that floats on air
But once was living man."

OLDEST TREE IN THE WORLD.

The cypress of Somma, in Lombardy, Italy, is perhaps the oldest tree on record. It was known to be in existence in the time of JULIUS CÆSAR, 42 years before Christ, and is therefore more than 1900 years old. It is 105 feet high and 20 in circumference at one foot from the ground. NAPOLEON, when laying down the plan for his great road over the Simplon, a portion of the Alps, diverged from a straight line to avoid injuring this tree. The honor of superior antiquity, however, is claimed by some in behalf of the immense and valuable tree in Calaveras county, California, which is supposed from the number of concentric circles in the trunk to be 2265 years old.

TROUBLE AMONG THE NEGROES.

The Sea Island Plantations.

[From the Savannah News and Herald.]

A rumor was prevalent in this city yesterday that a collision had occurred between a detachment of United States soldiers and the freedmen on Mr. Cheves' plantation, by which several lives had been lost, but from what we can learn there was really no conflict between them. We found the officers very reticent, but from what we could learn the facts are these: An order has been issued to Capt. H. C. Brandt, commissioner of the freedmen's bureau, who has charge of the negroes on Back river, to the effect that the lands are to be turned over to owners and the freedmen to make contracts. A portion of the Cheves property has been leased by Mr. Smith Barnwell, who was desirous of making agreements with the negroes, but they positively refused and threatened to take Mr. Barnwell's life.

Application was then made to Capt. Brandt, who furnished Mr. Barnwell with a corporal and six men, with whom he proceeded to the place, but soon found that the negroes were determined to resist. He then came back and made application for a detachment of fifty men. They were furnished from Fort Pulaski, and Lieut. Miller, of the 16th infantry, detailed to command them. Capt. Brandt then proceeded across the river, and left twenty-five men at the mill. With the balance he went to Mr. Barnwell's place, and at first saw nothing but a few women and children. He read his orders to them, and said that he came to them as a friend and not to fight them. Soon thereafter the detachment was surrounded by three or four hundred armed negro men and women, the men keeping to the rear of the women and children.

They were armed with clubs, hooks and muskets. The captain stated that he wanted them to appoint one or two men to talk the matter over with him, and advised them that he did not want to drive them off the place, but merely to induce them to make contracts with Mr. Barnwell. This they refused, and said the lands belonged to them; they had paid taxes to the government, and that they would not leave.

When the parley was progressing, some of the negroes had got in the rear of the soldiers and behind a fence, and when discovered they had their guns pointed through holes in the fence, and bearing directly on the soldiers. Discovering this, the captain judiciously determined to withdraw his men, not wishing to shed blood, especially as the women and children would probably have been the sufferers. He retired to the hill where he had left the balance of the soldiers, and came to town for further orders from Gen. Scott, commanding the district.

We have been informed that the negroes have been thoroughly drilled and armed, and that an officer, with sash and sword, was in command. We also learn that the negro lawyer, Bradley, who applied to be admitted to practice in the superior court last week, is at the bottom of the whole thing; that he has informed the negroes that they cannot be removed; that congress has passed a law giving them the right to hold the land; and that he has recommended them to resist the officers of the bureau. Some of the negroes presented what they said was their warrant, and which had been given them by Bradley for the sum of one dollar a head.

We understand that dispatches have been sent to Gen. Scott, informing him of the state of affairs, and that he will probably arrive on the scene to-day. A steamboat left yesterday afternoon with supplies and stores for the soldiers, but we did not hear of it returning last night.

Coup d'Etat in Spain.

The state of affairs in Spain is most ominous, and should intelligence come that the last of the Bourbons is swept from the throne, in the person of Queen Isabella, there will be no occasion for surprise. Order is preserved only through the exercise of an absolute military despotism, regardless of even constitutional forms. Martial law is rigorously enforced at the capital. Citizens are constantly seized without warning, and either imprisoned or expelled from the country. Newspapers are suppressed on the slightest provocation. In short, the administration of Narvaez is little more than a reign of blood. The situation is well illustrated by events which have just occurred. Congress having become troublesome on account of its criticisms upon the course of the government, Queen Isabella resolved upon its dissolution, which fact becoming known gave rise to a protest from several of the deputies. The document in question, as stated by the captain general of New Castile, was "exhibited for clandestine signature in the chamber of deputies," whereupon orders were issued prohibiting the admission to the legislative buildings of any except conservative members, who were provided with cards to be shown to the officer of the guard stationed at the entrance. Persons whose signatures might be attached to the "clandestine document" were ordered to be put under immediate arrest. This proved to be but a temporary expedient, for when three of the deputies afterward attempted to gain access to the queen in her palace, bearing an address, the government caused the offenders to be seized and expelled from the country–as some reports have it, to the penal settlements in the Canary islands. No senator, it is stated, took part in these proceedings. December 30th, two days subsequent to the order for the exclusion of all opposition members from congress, a royal decree was issued, dissolving the cortes, and ordering fresh elections to take place on the 10th of March. The new cortes is convoked for the 30th of that month. Such is Spain to-day.–N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

The Shreveport (La.) Southwestern, of the 20th ult., says, under the head of "a good day for killing":

Last Thursday was a good day for shuffling off "the mortal coil" in this city. Early in the morning a worthy young man, clerking in a store at Mugginsville, accidentally dropped his revolver, which caused it to go off, shooting him through the body, causing instant death. Later in the day a freedman and his son got into a quarrel about a rule, which resulted in the son shooting his father through the head, killing him instantly. Late that night a gambler, called "Banco," stabbed to the heart a man named Turner, at a ball given by the nymphs du pave, on the corner of Edwards and Texas street. Turner lingered a day or two and expired. Banco made his escape. Turner was a carpenter by trade, but was oftener found about the drinking saloons than in the shop.

The majority of the committee on federal relations in the Wisconsin senate have reported in favor of the adoption of the resolution ratifying the constitutional amendment, and also in favor of instructing Senator Doolittle to resign.

Stevens' reconstruction bill was then considered. Ross spoke, objecting to it as adverse to republican principles enunciated during the late war, and as being unwise and inexpedient, and said if congress could depose the president and paralize the supreme court, our civil government would be destroyed. He thought he saw among the republican leaders, types of the Robespierres, Dantons, and Marats of the French revolution. He appealed to congress to let well enough alone, and said he thought the president ought to be impeached for leaving so many disunionists in office.

Stevens gave notice that he would take the floor on Monday and put the bill on its passage if Ashley would withdraw his substitute.

Bingham withdrew his motion to refer the bill, and Ashley withdrew his substitute and announced his intention to vote against its reference.

In the course of Ashley's remarks he alluded to the men holding seats on the democratic side who had co-operated with the rebels.

Winfield took exceptions to the remark and denounced it as base, utterly untrue, and unfounded slander.

Hunter added: "So far as I am concerned it is a base lie."

Hill called Hunter to order, and the speaker ruled that the words were out of order.

Randall said: "But nevertheless it is true."

Hill moved a vote of censure against Hunter, which was carried by 81 to 34.

The speaker briefly administered the censure to Hunter, who stated that he used the language in a moment of irritation at a false charge and he intended no disrespect to the house.

ARSON AND ATTEMPTED POISON.

Singular Instance of Ingratitude and Crime.

The Rochester (N. Y.) Express contains the following particulars of a remarkable case of ingratitude and crime which, it says, has been kept as secret as possible:

A young girl named Kate, about twelve or fourteen years old, was adopted by Mrs. Crosby, a widow lady, in the town of Greece. Her mother was living, but she had lived with Mrs. Crosby several years, and had apparently become warmly attached to her, as she had abundant reason to be, for Mrs. Crosby had given her a good education, and she had attained considerable proficiency in music and in writing stories. Some time last July Mrs. Crosby's barn was burned under circumstances which strongly indicated that it was the work of an incendiary.

No suspicion, however, was attached to the girl, who professed great regret for the misfortune. Some time after a wood shed adjoining the house was discovered to be on fire. The alarm was given by the falling of a string of bells, and before much damage had been done. As there was nobody but the woman and girl in the house, the girl was sent to alarm the neighbors. She was gone a long time, though the house was only a few rods distant. When she arrived the girl apologized for the delay by saying that the family had all gone to bed, and were asleep, so that "it was a long time before she could awake them." The family, on the other hand, contradicted this, saying that they heard her when she first opened the gate, and that she did not knock at the door until some time afterward. This aroused suspicion, and the girl being confronted by the facts, acknowledged that she had not only fired the house, but the barn, which was burned in July before.

This condition of affairs of course rendered it necessary that the girl should leave the family, but Mrs. Crosby concluded to search the trunk of the girl. She had missed several articles, chiefly valued as presents from friends. She found some of these articles and an open letter, bearing no postmark, and addressed to the family living across the street. This she considered so singular that she read the letter, and found that it purported to have been written by herself announcing her own suicide by poison. Full directions were given for her funeral and the disposition of her personal effects, a good share of which were directed to be given to the young girl, the writer of the letter. Mrs. Crosby was still almost unwilling to believe that so young a girl could seriously meditate such a terrible crime, and was yet disposed to regard the letter as some flight of fancy to which the girl's imaginative temperament was prone; but on looking further into the trunk she found the bottle of poison with which the crime was to be committed. Instead of having the girl arrested and taken care of, she was sent to her mother, and the matter has thus far been kept quiet, so that no legal proceedings have been instituted against the guilty party.

COTTON PLANTING IN EGYPT.

We take from a late number of the Mobile Tribune the following article on the culture of cotton in Egypt, which may interest our planting readers:

The wonderful development given by our late war to this branch of agriculture in the fertile valleys of the Nile, has already been the subject of remarks on the part of the Times, which has seen in that increase a forerunner of the dangers threatening the great staple of the south.

In speaking of the introduction of Egyptian cotton, we said that the labor producing it was cheaper by far than that now paid for by the southern planter, and we are prepared to prove it.

From an authentic and official report before us, we extract the following data: In 1841 the average net income of an Arab laborer was about five cents (one Egyptian piastre) a day; but owing to the great stimulus arising from the increased price of cotton does reach now nearly twenty cents per diem in gold, or about twenty-eight cents American currency. This gives us the highest cost of raising cotton per pound, to-wit:

Ground rent paid the government for the hire of–

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| One acre | 110 | piastres. |
| Plowing | 50 | ... |
| Irrigation | 60 | ... |
| Seed | 20 | ... |
| Hoeing | 100 | ... |
| Picking | 100 | ... |
| Ginning | 40 | ... |
| Total | 480 | ... |

being equal to twenty-four dollars in gold, or thirty-three dollars and sixty cents currency, and as an acre of land of that fertile soil will yield about four cantars, or four hundred pounds of cotton, the actual cost of producing and preparing the cotton for market will not exceed six cents in gold, or eight 4-10 cents currency.

Now, under our present system of labor, and taking the same average to yield per acre, it is next to impossible to raise and prepare cotton for market at a less cost than fifteen cents a pound, or sixty dollars (currency) by the acre, to which, adding the three cent tax or twelve dollars more, it swells the cost of production to seventy-two dollars currency or more than double the cost of the Egyptian produce.

At that valuation, and adding the cost of bagging, rope and freight, a bale of 500 pounds cannot be laid on the wharves of Mobile at a less cost than ninety-five dollars.

The above figures are even thought to be too low, and hardly cover the actual expenses under the new system, as it may be established by comparison with the first statement.

The object of the foregoing remarks is to urge upon our planters the necessity to renounce the cultivation of large estates, and to invite in lieu of it the patient laborer of the north or the hardy pioneer of the west, who, working for and by themselves, will prove far more productive than the indifferent and careless freedmen.

And even to the freedman himself we have no objection as a tenant and producer on the land, firmly believing that many among them would do better, if left to their own resources, than when working for a former master.

Now, the negro is thrown on the south, and there he must remain. It is, therefore, our interest to elevate him as nearly as possible to the level of an orderly and well behaved producer.

While we are satisfied that, as a mere day laborer, he will never give nor feel satisfaction, we are induced to think that in the capacity of a self-dependent and self-relying farmer, tenant or owner, he will more rapidly progress than in any other way.

The experiment is, at least, worth trying, and if a negro man, with a moderate family, can, on ten or fifteen acres of land, raise his own provisions and produce three or four bales of cotton, then the future of the south would still be bright, and a great social problem happily settled.

We hope to see the experiment made, and for this we call on our northern born citizens who have lately settled amongst us in good faith and with an earnest desire to help in restoring our lost prosperity. Let such of them who have purchased or rented larger tracts than they can cultivate, lease out the balance to some of the freedmen who are refusing to work by the year, and this example should, likewise be followed by our own planters, who must now be convinced of the impossibility to cultivate large tracts.

In short, and unless by the breaking up of large plantations and the increasing production resulting from a proper sub-division of labor, we totally alter our present, Egyptian and East India cotton will soon be too much of a match for the crippled labor system of the south.

Happy Fellow.

The local editor of the Danville (Va.) Times is the most contented man we know of. Hear him:

We are happy at being no more miserable–no wood–no money–snow three inches deep, and more, we fear, coming–ink frozen–roller ditto–the devil with a bad cold, and our heels frost-bitten. We don't care a constitutional for the country; it may sink or swim; the probability now is it will freeze. Fact is, we've been out so long in the cold, and don't know that we'd "stand treat" if Uncle Sam would offer to take us in. We are pretty much in the temper of the obstinate urchin who had kicked the cover off and woke his "mammy" in the night, crying out "he was cold." "Well, pull the cover on you, Johnny," said she. "Thant do it," replied the youth, "durned if I don't freethe furthst!"

Cotton.

We were surprised to learn that a good deal of the staple is yet unpicked for want of help. However, this may all turn out for the best, as cotton will surely bring more in March and April than it does now. Also, we learn that a great deal of corn is yet on the stalks in the field. Our planters are certainly farther behind time this year than they ever were before. The cause of this can all be traced to the fickleness of the freedmen. They will hire to the farmer and promise to do good work, but when working time comes they are not "thar." If all of the drawers were taken out of "de bureau," and the looking-glass thereon smashed, the darkey would then go to work with a will and not depend upon sustenance therefrom in case he flies his contract.–White County Record.

The "Old Issue."

A difficulty occurred Saturday night between two of the colored population, in which one struck the other with a piece of plank. He was brought up before the mayor, when he plead in extenuation that he would not have done it, but the other darkey belonged to the "old issue," (meaning that he was free before the war), and therefore wanted to impose upon him. The "old issue" hold themselves above the new, and compose the upper crust of colored society.–Lynchburg Virginian.

DIED.

STEWART–At the residence of Dr John A. Martin, Des Arc, Ark., on the 15th inst., ELIZA STEWART known as Mammy Liza, in her 67th year–an inmate of Jas. Armour's family for over fifty years.

Hardly a boy that was raised in this city but remembers this good old lady. Her motherly smile will be missed by many, and it will be the sunlight fading from the day obscured by a dark cloud to be more resplendent in Heaven. She did her life-work nobly dying in the full faith of Christianity, trusting in the Lord of Hosts.

A GOOD FIT.—We call public attention to the card in another column of Mr. P. H. Cavanaugh, merchant tailor, No. 42 Union street, and advise our friends who have not already visited him to do so without delay. Besides having on hand an extensive assortment of goods, we can personally recommend him as having given us the best fit in the way of pantaloons it has been our good fortune to wear for many a day. His terms also are quite reasonable, and his gentlemanly address makes it a pleasure to call on him. We are glad to notice a good establishment, and cordially mention among the first tailors and establishments of our city Mr. P. H. Cavanaugh, No. 42 Union street.

MERITED SUCCESS.—Dr. Murphy is winning for himself great renown for the successful manner in which he treats diseases of the feet. We are informed that on yesterday he had such an extensive practice that quite a number were disappointed in not receiving the benefits of his skillful practice. Dr. Murphy remains only for a short time at the Overton. Those who are so unfortunate as to be afflicted with corns, bunions or inverted nails, would do well to avail themselves of Dr. Murphy's skillful practice.

ATTENTION.—We beg to call the attention of our readers to the card of Messrs. Kellogg & Overton, in another column, wholesale grocers and commission merchants, Little Rock, Ark. This is a reliable and prompt firm, and we bespeak for them a liberal patronage.

DISSOLUTION.—By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that the firm of Eastland & Stanley has been dissolved, and the business will in future be conducted by Eastland & Gilbert, 298 Main street. Their stock is of the finest discription, and parties furnishing a house should not fail to call.

EMMONS & SON.—This firm have just received the following papers—they are never behind with choice reading matter: La Crosse Democrat, Metropolitan Record, New York Clipper, Wilkes' Spirit, Irish People, Pilot, American illustrated weeklies, Harper for February Atlantic Monthly, Every Saturday for January. Call and see their stock at No. 10 Jefferson street.

NEW MEMPHIS THEATER.—This popular and legitimate place of amusement was well filled last night. The Brigand was performed for the last time, and the pleasing farce of Sketches in India. To-morrow (Monday) evening we are to have Temptation.

RISTORI.—Signor D. DeVivo, the agent of the Ristori Opera troupe, arrived in the city yesterday for the purpose of making the necessary arrangements for their appearance at the Greenlaw Opera hall, on Tuesday, February 5th. The subscription list is open daily at the box office from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. A large number of seats have been already sold.

THE HIBERNICON.—Professor MacEvoy's Hibernicon of a tour in Ireland has arrived in this city and will be exhibited at the Greenlaw hall on Wednesday evening next. This exhibition is one well worthy the patronage of our people. As a work of art it stands unrivalled in its sphere, transporting the beholder by magic as it were across the broad Atlantic to Erin's Isle, whose sons are spread world-wide, and distinguish themselves wherever found. In addition to the pictorial attractions presented, the charming vocalists, Miss Mary Dalton and Miss Theresea MacEvoy, enliven the intervals with gems of Erin's songs, while Mr. Chas. MacEvoy, as Barney, the guide, whose imitations (on the violin) of the Irish bagpipe are unsurpassed.

TELEGRAMS.—The following telegrams remain uncalled for at the office, Saturday, January 26: J. H. Stephens, A. D. Raub, S. D. McClure, D. Passmore, D. E. Garrison 2, Col. Gus. Henry, W. E. Jones, D. M. Harkins, Dr. H. Black, Jeff. Bridgeford, A. Berstein & Co., Perkins, L. & Post, J. W. Norwood, Hon. Jas. Heskill, Davis & McDonald, B. S. Crump, Walcott, Smith & Co., Jno. Howt, C. C. Chambers, agent underwriters agency, Waddy Thompson, J. B. Wild, G. Oertil, C. F. Smith, G. N. Falls & Co., A. E. Camp, W. H. Cherry, W. T. Thurmond, A. Raggio, J. F. Zimerman, J. W. Gibb.

TAKEN.—A gentleman named M. G. Cox had some business at the Poplar street market yesterday, and hitched his horse to a wagon near by. On looking for the animal he found it gone. His son on coming down the street saw a negro boy mounted on the horse, going toward Front row, but supposing his father had sent him on a message, asked no questions. The thief has not since been heard from.

WIFE BEATING.—Two cases of negro wife whipping were up in the Second district yesterday. The first one tried, Geo. Lewis, was fined $15; the second one, Ed. Batease, was fined ten dollars, and his wife ditto, as she provoked the assault; but the commissioner thought Ed. had no business to strike a woman.

THAT CANE.—The voting for the cane at the Catholic fair ended last night, the vote standing: P. M. Winters, 20,702; John Donovan, 20,134; making an aggregate of $40,836 for the cane.

MEAN AND PETTY.—Jno. Wakely was yesterday arrested, charged with stealing six dollars from a boon companion, in a saloon on Jefferson street. Small business, that!

COTTON GONE UP.—Some enterprising thief stole a bale of cotton yesterday morning marked H. from the front of the store of Davis & Baugh, No. 5 Adams street. The police are on his track.

POLICE MATTERS.—The police world was rather quiet yesterday, only 46 cases being on the dockets in both districts. Not many cases of importance on hand and but few that demanded the attention of the state, $207 being assessed and $186 paid in.

BASE THIEF.—Some scoundrel not having the fear of God before his eyes, nor pity for the orphans, stole a valuable horse from the Orphan asylum, near Fort Pickering, last night. A negro suspected of the theft has been arrested. These gentry are getting worse and more fearless every day.

STRUCK A WOMAN.—A white individual named William Gillespie was yesterday arrested charged with assaulting, beating and throwing down stairs Mrs. Daoer, on Jackson street, near the bayou. A warrant was subsequently obtained and William turned over to the state.

COTTON THIEVES ARRESTED.—The authorities are coming at the thieves by degrees. Officer Hastings, of the detective force, arrested three negroes yesterday charged with stealing cotton. The above arrests were made separately, and the prospect for the discovery of one gang at least seems very good.

ANOTHER ONE.—Dray No. 65 failed yesterday to deliver a bureau and two setts of harness to the proper address. Perhaps this darkey feared the abolishment of the freedmen's bureau and wanted one of his own, and for fear it would run away thought it better to have it well harnessed. Handy thing to have in the house, eh?

ST. PATRICK'S FAIR.—The fair for the benefit of St. Patrick's church, which ends Monday night, has been a complete success, and all who visited it were pleased, and from all appearance every one went away last night well satisfied. The voting on the suit of vestments for the favorite priest and the cane for the most popular city or county official, will be ended Monday.

MATRIMONIAL.—If we are to judge by the number of licenses returned to the county clerk during the week, the parties matrimonially inclined are few and far between, only four unions being reported, as follows: Nathan W. Smith and Miss M. H. Rowlett, December 27; G. B. Davis and Miss R. A. McCorp, January 22; Oliver C. Edwards and Sabina L. Sullivan, January 24; Jerry Freeman and Emma Sims, January 17.

CONTEMPT.—Judge Smith having decided that Thomas Ford, street commisioner appointed by the old board, was still entitled to his position, and Mayor Lofland refusing to accept his services, was ordered to appear before the common law court yesterday, which he did, accompanied by his counsel, Messrs. Yerger & Sale. The question of jurisdiction came up, and was argued at some length. The argument will be resumed again this morning.

PERSONAL.—We had the pleasure yesterday of a call from John Hodnett, Esq., one of the publishers of that sterling paper, the St Louis Times, who comes to our city on business connected with his journal. We commend Mr. Hodnett to our merchants and trust they will patronize him liberally, for the Times is not only one of the best, but most earnest supporters of the constitutional rights of the South. Mr. Hodnett was for a long time connected with the Dubuque Herald, a paper that stood nobly by us during the trying times of the late war.

PERSONAL.—We had the pleasure, yesterday, of welcoming to our sanctum Capt. I. N. Butler, formerly of South Carolina, and well known in Hampton's cavalry as one of the most gallant and accomplished officers of the Army of Northern Virginia. Capt. Butler, we learn, intends commencing the practice of law in Marion, Crittenden county, Ark., and we cheerfully recommend him to our readers and friends as in every way worthy of their confidence and support.

ROBBERIES.—The burglarious gentry have changed their base and enlarged their operations. On Friday night the premises of the following parties were robbed: W. R. Hunt, H. F. Farnsworth, W. Y. Cirode, F. M. Mahan, Tom Farnsworth, J. J. Rawlings, all on Linden street, between Orleans and Lauderdale. A large quantity of valuable property was carried off, consisting of all kinds of wearing apparel, watches, jewelry, money, and in fact everything that could be conveniently or inconveniently transported. How long is this state of things to last?

ELISE VESTVALI LUND.—This accomplished German artiste, who is accompanying her cousin, Felicita de Vestvali, on her present tour through the country, at the solicitation of several prominent German citizens who have either witnessed her histrionic efforts elsewhere or read of her high position on the dramatic stage in Europe, will appear on the boards of the New Memphis theater on Tuesday evening next, in her great character of "Deborah," in the play of that name, which is perhaps better known to Americans under the title of Leah the Forsaken. It was reserved for Dr. Mosenthal, the author of Deborah, to make the stage, that powerful engine of moral teaching, subservient to the elevation of the Jewish race in the eyes of the Christian people of the continent of Europe, by whom for centuries they had been persecuted and down-trodden. How well he succeeded in his noble work is attested by the great success which his play achieved. It ran over a year on its first production in Germany, and even now is there considered the most attractive play that can be offered, for whenever it is announced it never fails to crowd the theater. The play was translated in this country for Miss Bateman, who by this piece alone made a reputation and a fortune—having acted it many hundred nights in New York and London to overflowing houses. Ristori added it to her repertoire, and it has proved one of her chief attractions. Miss Vestvali Lund was the original of the character of "Deborah," being selected by the author and specially engaged to perform the part, and as Dr. Mosenthal was kind enough to express to her in an autograph letter, she, "by the chaste and correct conception of the character, and the admirable and artistic portrayal of it, aided materially in the success which the play achieved." The German critics went into ecstacies over her performance, and pronounced it equal to the greatest impersonations of Rachel; and since Ristori has enacted the character, parties who have witnessed both award the palm of superiority to Vestvali Lund. On Tuesday evening Miss Lund will act in the German language the entire third act of "Deborah," which includes the celebrated "curse" scene, and in the absence of German professional artists in this city, the celebrated "Vestvali," in order that the citizens of Memphis may not be deprived of seeing this great artiste, will enact the character of "Joseph," also in the German language, thus presenting on the same evening two of the greatest artistes now in the country. This entertainment will prove even attractive to those who do not understand the German language, as there is always that "indescribable something" which is ever the concomitant of true genius, which will impress an audience though the words uttered may be foreign to our ears. On the same evening Vestvali will appear as usual in English, in one of her celebrated characters, and it must not be forgotten that her engagement is rapidly drawing to a close, as on Friday evening next, the occasion of her farewell benefit in this city, she will bid us adieu, as she leaves by train on Saturday afternoon for New Orleans, where she will commence an engagement on Monday, February 4th. With regard to Miss Lund's impersonation of "Deborah" we copy the following from the New York Stadt Zeitung: "She displayed, throughout, that remarkable tact that can only be obtained by the unity of talent with careful study and undaunted perseverence. One great feature in Miss Lund's impersonation is the absence of ranting; in the "curse scene" the wronged woman did not assume the character of a raving maniac. It is the control of the passions, and not the passions themselves, that stamps a great actor or actress. How few recognize this fact! Work yourself into a fit of anger, jealousy, or revenge, as the character may require, and then give vent to unbridled passions, is the maxim of many. I have heard critics uphold this monstrosity as well as its reverse appearance, on the stage, without culture of gesticulation, on the least development of the passions, or the plea of nature. A wild horse, or an illiterate, ignorant countryman who, to use a street boy's expression, has the "cheek" to enter decent society, may be viewed in the same light—natural. Miss Lund as "Deborah" was evidently in her sphere, and displayed all the various excellencies her abilities exhibit. This is undoubtedly one of her best characters and she will prove a strong card for any actress to outvie on any stage. The genius she possessed originally has been cultivated by profound study in the highest school of art. Endowed with a full and sympathetic voice she has exquisite skill in managing it from the conventional drawing tone to the most profound pathos. Her face is intelligent and expressive; her features delicate and regular. Of all the actresses on any stage (in whatever they play), Miss Lund is, in manner and bearing, the most elegant and refined."

MEMPHIS AND CHARLESTON RAILROAD.—The following is an exhibit of the receipts and expenditures of this road for the month ending December 31st: For passengers, $166,182 72; freights, $64,155 07; mails, $1700; express, $6200; other sources, $612. Total, $178,848 79. Expenses, $82,753 19. Net revenue, $96,096 60.

TEST CASE.—Captain Duble, of the steamer Ruth, was fined $25 at the first district police office yesterday, on a charge of boarding passengers at the wharf. So the police docket states. The facts of the case, as far we have been able to learn them, are as follows: The steamer was advertised to leave here on Friday evening at five o'clock. Passengers were taken on board, booked for the trip, and took their meals on the boat as usual. Something occurred to prevent her departure till yesterday, when complaint was made to the police. Hence the arrest and fine. This may be all right, but it looks strange that people should be fined for feeding their guests gratis if they choose. An appeal was taken from the decision of the commissioner, and the case will be made a test one.

RIVER MATTERS.

Weather and Business.

The weather yesterday was clear and cold.

Business was very active on the landing, with three fine steamers loading for below.

The river rose 2 feet at this point in the past 24 hours, and has considerable ice floating in it. There is a slight rise at St. Louis and by this time the Ohio is again rising at Louisville. At Cincinnati it is falling. The Arkansas is also declining, but White and St. Francis rivers are slowly rising.

Arrivals.

Steamer Glasgow, Evansville.
" Commonwealth, Cairo.
" Mississippi, New Orleans.
" W. J. Lewis, New Orleans.
" Comet, New Madrid.

Departures.

Steamer Glasgow, New Orleans.
" Commonwealth, New Orleans.
" Mississippi, Louisville.
" W. J. Lewis, St. Louis.
" Celeste, Arkansas river.
" Die Vernon, Vicksburg.
" Dan Able, Vicksburg.
" Des Arc, White river.
" Ruth, New Orleans.

Boats in Port.

Gleaner, Comet, Mary McDonald, W. J. Lewis.

Miscellaneous.

A dispatch was received by Harmstad & Co., from Capt. Archer, of the Liberty, dated at Cairo, which says: "We got here all right, and were the first boat through for a week. Weather cold and freezing."

Capt. Duble, of the Ruth, was arrested yesterday. Particulars will be found in our local columns. The Ruth departed for New Orleans with nearly 2000 bales of cotton and a good passenger trip.

The Mississippi arrived from below, with 600 of the craps who "fought nobly," on board. She added here 900 bales of cotton and also carried forward the Ruth's up trip of sugar, etc.

The Comet came in from Madrid with 4000 sacks corn.

The Des Arc had a light trip for White river.

The Die Vernon and Dan Able had both fair trips of freight and people.

The agents of the Illinois Central railroad have forwarded to the east via that line, in the past two weeks, 6,511 bales of cotton. This is doing a heavy business for the times.

Five sixths of the steamer J. L. Graham was sold at Nashville to W. L. Waters, of Wilson county, for $3000.

The towboat Sam. Merwin sunk a corn boat, with the loss of 5000 bushels of corn and a lot of provisions, at the mouth of Salt river. The ice stove her bow planks in, causing her to sink in less than 30 minutes.

INFORMATION WANTED.—On the 12th of December last, John Patterson, of Nashville, took passage on the steamer Tyrone at Clarksville, for Cairo, and since he reached the latter place, say on the 14th ult., has not been heard from. He was a Scotchman by birth, and a baker by trade, and was on his way to this city. His wife, who is a resident of Nashville, is in great distress, and is fearful that he was drowned between Cairo and Memphis. Any information concerning him will be thankfully received by his wife.

John Green, of Nashville, purchased of Scott Reed one-fifth interest in the steamer Bravo, paying $250 for the same. She is a little one-horse boat, lately built at that place. She carries three or four people and about two bales of hay.

The new steamer Empire, in charge of Capt. Hicks King, is loading at Portland for this city. She, with the Cora S., will enter the trade permanently.

Hall's Journal of Health says it is not healthy to "cuddle up" in bed. That is all owing to who one "cuddles up" to (?)

We see that one of our churches is advertising for an organist. Send in your application, Durff.

During the heavy gale that visited Mobile on the night of the 13th, the steamer Ocean Wave broke from her moorings, and drifting upon a snag, sunk immediately. A schooner was driven ashore, but suffered little damage. A propeller that was lightering a ship down the bay, had to be relieved of 1200 bags of salt, in order to keep her from sinking. The gale lasted several hours and blew down houses, roofs and fences.

Several boats, including the Anna and C. T. Dumont, are lying in the mouth of the Kentucky river.

The Wabash river is reported entirley frozen up, and many steamers lying in it in a very critical situation, should it break up suddenly.

The trouble in Mobile about libeling steamers at that port, it seems, is to be investigated by order of the judge of the U. S. district court at New Orleans. The boats were seized on the plea that the local inspectors at that point were not legally appointed. They have been acting for the past year and a half.

It is feared that the boats lying aground between St. Louis and Cairo, will all be destroyed when the gorges above are broken up.

We learn that there is now very little trouble in navigating the lower Ohio. The Silver Moon has got out to Cairo and will reach here to-day, while the Darling, Indiana and Cora S. will also be in port about to-morrow night. Above the falls the ice is still heavy and navigation to Cincinnati is precarious.

The river between St. Louis and Cairo is still gorged in two places. The weather at present is not favorable to a breaking up, as it thaws but little during the day and the nights are very cold—ice making freely.

The Louisville Courier of the 25th says: The river was falling very slowly yesterday, barely 3 inches in 24 hours, at the head of the falls, and 9 inches at Portland. In the canal there were 6 feet 3 inches water by the mark, and over the falls 4 feet 3 inches in the pass. The weather was cloudy and moderating during the day, with the thermometer ranging at 32.

The St. Louis Times of the 25th says: The weather yesterday was damp and chilly. At dark it was raining, and we may now expect an immediate thaw, and a high stage of water. The river had risen about 12 inches and is still rising. There is now nothing but the ice gorges below here to prevent an immediate resumption of navigation. We are inclined to think that several boats will leave for southern ports to-morrow.

The New Orleans Picayune says: We were shown yesterday a lock which is shortly to be introduced into general use by the board of supervising inspectors, for the safety valves of all steamboats. The lock is a padlock, and is what is known as Thompson's patent. With the exception of a different style of key, it is almost entirely, if not entirely, similar to the locks used by the internal revenue department for distilleries, etc. It is so arranged that when locked a seal can be placed over the keyhole, which will give evidence of the slightest attempt to tamper with it. The locked safety valves to which these locks are to be attached, and which were adopted at the last annual meeting of the board of supervising inspectors of steam vessels held at Buffalo, N. Y., in October last, will be probably introduced in this district, by the last of March or in the early part of April next. The lock is furnished to the treasury department under contract, and will be furnished to steamboats at five dollars each, the actual cost to the government. There is every reason to hope that this additional guard placed over those who sometimes recklessly carry more steam than the law allows, will prove vastly beneficial in its results.

Mr. Morrill gave some interesting statements in the house on Thursday last. He showed that with the present paper currency amounting to nine hundred and sixty-three millions actually less business is done than was doing six years ago with less than one-fourth the entire amount. In Great Britain in 1865 it was hardly forty millions sterling, while her trade and commerce exceed that of our own or any other nation. Our own highest bank note circulation before the war was $214,778,822. He also argued that gold was the cheapest thing we had to sell. The government requires gold to be paid at the custom house. It pays out an equal amount at the sub-treasury. This is the inflexible and perpetual measure of our wants. So long as this continues we are maintaining the paper system to the great disadvantage of foreign nations and our own loss. While it continues we shall be the subjects of foreign plunder and sport of gold speculators. Every man's property is at the mercy of the wild waves of an inflated currency. It is often said that the United States, if legal tender issues were withdrawn, would be loser by the amount of increased interest. The commercial health of the country is of tenfold more value than twenty-four millions to the government. With inconvertible paper financial health is impossible, but with health we could negotiate all loans for one-sixth less interest. The three hundred million National bank currency itself would be convertible, being over fifty per cent. more than we had. While we have already entirely extinguished, or propose to extinguish the circulation of state banks, we have supplied its place and much more by creation of a family of national banks whose issues alone are one hundred millions greater than the circulation displaced, and whose issues are everywhere practically irredeemable, incontrovertible and claiming to be controvertible at some time or other in paper currency of still larger proportions, which government will in some way, and at some time redeem, and if it does not choose instead to go more deeply into the monopoly of fancy colored paper. Deposits, bills of exchange and checks of individuals really possess in collateral transactions all the functions of bank note currency, and in modern times are used at least nine times more extensively; therefore, in proportion to the business of the world, far less money is actually required than formerly; that the rapidity of circulation of money, or whatever circulates as money, greatly magnifies any currency which may be used in the United States; that the immensity of our paper circulation tends to the spread of unthrifty habits and extravagance on the part of congress and executive departments as well as the people. A postponement of time and resumption will find our people less prepared, more deeply in debt, the banks with heavier lines of discounts, and the credit system more expanded everywhere than now. Without a wise, steady, and prudent adherence to the idea of early resumption, without this cardinal idea always in front, we are in danger, in the face of a diminishing revenue, of no resumption at all. A virtual or abrupt contraction of the present volume of paper currency might not be advisable, and with even the present interest of the treasury urging the maintenance of an easy money market there is no danger of its occurrence. But a moderate and persistent contraction of the flood under its old embankment is advisable, in order to restore health and vigor to languishing industry, and in order to build up our greatness as a nation upon an impregnable foundation.

COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, January 26, 1867, 8 p.m.

General Business.

We have but little change to report in our general markets. Holders of produce are anxious to sell, and prices are not so firm, while buyers are holding off, waiting for the new stocks, which will be thrown upon the market in a very few days. Meats are becoming more plentiful, and upon the arrival of the Silver Moon, Darling and other boats which should be in port within the next two or three days, the supply will be abundant. A large amount of goods which should be now at our landing, was lost on the St. Cloud on Thursday last. The cotton which has accumulated during the past week upon our levee is being shipped rapidly.

COTTON—The market was dull during the day, and sales were small; receipts for the day, 1582 bales; shipments 1937 bales; receipts for the week, 10,434 bales; shipments for the same time, 8211 bales.

On Thursday Mr. Trimble, of Kentucky, made a motion by which the committee of ways and means was instructed to inquire into the expediency of repealing the tax on cotton, also allowing cotton to be removed to market without bond.

The hog slaughtering and pork packing season is fast drawing to a close at all the leading packing points, showing a very considerable increase in numbers as compared with the previous years. The following is a summary at several points for this season and the past, premising that the receipts at both Chicago and Cincinnati include dressed hogs for the market, which the low prices, compared with the previous year, has caused a vast increase in the daily consumption of pork:

| Packing points. | 1867. | 1866. |
|---|---|---|
| Cincinnati | 407,915 | 354,079 |
| Chicago | 464,578 | 309,904 |
| St. Louis | 155,000 | 118,125 |
| Louisville | [illegible] | 90,499 |
| Total | 1,197,373 | 874,607 |

In regard to the interior packing points the impression prevails that there will be an increase this year over the last, but not very large. It is estimated that a good deal of country bacon will be made this year, and no fears of a want of supplies need be entertained. The comparative low prices this year, as we have heretofore stated, have largely increased the consumption, and we can here remark that the sales in this market have seldom been heavier than during the past ten days.—Louisville Courier, 25th.

The following resolutions of the board of officers of the Chamber of Commerce of Cincinnati cover their action in regard to the communication of dealers asking that records and reports of sales of free whisky be discontinued, which we published several days ago:

Resolved, That the sales of free whisky in this and other markets, at a price so much below the relative figures which bonded whisky bears, do, in the opinion of this board, subject the whisky to the suspicion of fraud on the excise law, or of error of inspections, but that, instead of the withholding of records of such sales being calculated to correct the evil complained of in this matter, in the communication of dealers here this day submitted, the opposite is believed to be true, and that publicity given to such transactions, gives notoriety to illicit traffic, and should cause greater vigilance on the part of revenue officers.

Resolved, That hereafter the record of sales of free whisky shall discriminate between that sold on transportation bond and that which is branded tax paid.

BROWN & PERKINS'

Pianos for the People!

420 Broome St., New York.

WE would call the attention of the public to our elegant New Scale Pianos, in the following styles:

| | |
|---|---|
| STYLE "A," 7 octave, Front large round corners, plain case, either octagon or carved legs, straight bottom, bead moulding on plinth | $450 |
| STYLE "B," 7 octave, same as style A, with serpentine moulding on plinth, carved legs and lyre | 500 |
| STYLE "C," 7 octave, Front corners large round, serpentine bottom, mouldings same as on style D, carved lyre and desk, fancy carved legs | 550 |
| STYLE "D," 7 octave, Four large round corners, finished back, mouldings on rim and plinth, serpentine bottom, carved lyre and desk, elegant carved fruit legs | 600 |

The above styles are all finished in elegant Rosewood cases, and have the full iron frame, French action, harp pedal, beveled top, ivory keys and key fronts, and exceed in overstrung bass nearly all the 7¼ octave pianos now manufactered. They are made of the best materials, and for finish, durability, purity and sweetness of tone, cannot be surpassed.

The four styles described above, embody all the essential changes in exterior finish of case, which are by manufacturers run up to 15 and 20 patterns.

We invite the attention of the public, of dealers and the profession, to a critical examination of the merits of our Pianos.

By avoiding the great expense attendant upon costly factories and expensive warerooms in the city, we are enabled to offer these Pianos at prices which defy competition, and invite all to call and examine them before purchasing elsewhere.

When references and testimonials are required by those about to purchase, instead of presenting a display of professional names, we refer to the parties to whom we have sold our Pianos. Their judgment as to the real merits of our instruments as to their durability, touch, sweetness and power of tone, standing in tune, etc., based on actual experience, being of far more value than the mere good opinion of the artist, however capable, who merely tries in a wareroom, instruments in perfect tune and order, which have just received the workmen's last finishing touches.

DRUG WAREHOUSE

Of S. Mansfield & Co.,

Nos. 301 and 303 Main St.

Having this day disposed of my interest in the Drug Store of Gilbert & Higbee to MANSFIELD & HIGBEE, I most cordially recommend them to my friends, and earnestly bespeak for them a continuance of the liberal patronage extended to our old firm. Well satisfied of their business acquirements and skill as Druggists, I wish for them the same success which has attended the late partnership of Gilbert & Higbee. DR. S. GILBERT.

This combination forms the most complete Drug Emporium south of New York, where every facility will now be offered the purchaser of buying goods in our line at manufacturers' prices.

We cordially invite and direct the special attention of all persons to this establishment before making their purchases either in the East or West, as our object and aim shall be to provide a HOME MARKET, and to defy competition with all other cities.

Our Stock of Goods is Perfect and Complete at All Times.

Our experience in the trade of Memphis is such that we understand and know the wants of Druggists, Physicians, Merchants, Builders, Manufacturers, Planters and others.

We shall have in our employ none but the most experinced Clerks and assistants. All our arrangements will enable us to render perfect and complete satisfaction.

Thankful for the liberal and extensive patronage bestowed upon us heretofore by the citizens of Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama and Arkansas, and the territory west, we hope by constant attention to our own business to merit and receive an increasing continuance.

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

THE ROSARY.

BY MRS. ELIZABETH AKERS.

Ah me, this Rosary in other lands
Has learned more prayers than I shall ever know;
Its slow beads slipped and smoothed by pious hands
Whose pulses stopped a hundred years ago.

It keeps an odor mystical and dim
As of old churches where the censer swings,
Where echoing to the echo-chanting hymn
The sculptured angels fold their marble wings.

Where through the windows melts the unveiling light,
And in its passage leaves their gorgeous stain,
Then bars the gloom with rays all rainbows bright
As human hearts grow beautiful through pain.

One birth-day—it might be a year ago,
Or fifty, or a thousand—one who smiled,
Counted these beads and praised their marvelous glow,
Saying, "I bring a gift to you, dear child:

"An amulet, not made of gems or gold,
But drops of light imprisoned from above;
Gold were too heavy; gems too hard and cold,
And only amber suits the soul of love.

"What fitter birthday token could I give?
See how the clear orbs answer to the sun;
I clasp them at your throat, and you shall live
A perfect golden year for every one."

"Then why the cross?" I asked. He sighed and said,
"For possible sorrows." Ah, these useless tears;
The hand which placed it here, now cold and dead,
Forgets to twine for me the golden years;

Forgets to bless her waiting head who wears
For his dear sake these amber beads to-day;
Forgets to make the cruel cross she bears
Grow lighter as the birthdays wear away.

Yet still the amber gleams, and unawares
Turns all to gold beneath its mellow ray;
Oh, pure hearts, glowing with remembered prayers,
Plead for her peace who has no heart to pray.

EVERY article usually kept by Druggists can be found here. My stock is all new and fresh, and such as I can guarantee. To the citizens of Memphis, Planters, Merchants, Physicians, and all who are in need of anything in my line, I would take this method of assuring them that their orders will be filled upon short notice and with such articles as can be relied upon. To those of my former patrons, who have dealt with me up to the time I was of necessity compelled to sell out, I would cordially ask a renewal of their acquaintance, assuring them that our past and former dealings is only a guarantee of what the future will be, promising always to do the best I can.

MEDICAL.

USE
GALLIGHAN'S PILLS
FOR CHILLS & FEVER
A CERTAIN CURE

GALLIGHAN'S PILLS are composed simply of Vegetable Medicines. They are Cathartic Pills, acting upon the Stomach, Liver, and Bowels; containing no Arsenic, Calomel, Blue Mass, or any other Mineral substance. The great advantage the Proprietors claim for these Pills is that, without the aid of Calomel, Blue Mass, or any other Minerals, they will cure the most obstinate cases of CHILLS AND FEVER, DUMB AGUE, PERIODICAL HEADACHE, NEURALGIA, and all affections of a like character. Follow the directions, and you will find they will do all that is claimed for them. Try one box, and their own merits will recommend them ever afterwards.

☞ We have used Gallighan's Pills, and have never known them to fail to cure when the directions were followed, and unhesitatingly recommend them to public favor.

NEW SOUTHERN MUSIC BOOK

Just Published:

TABOR;

OR, THE

Ricmond Collection of Sacred Music.

BY R. M. McINTOSH,

Of Virginia.

Essentially Southern in its main features, TABOR nevertheless contains a choice selection of the best Northern copy-right Music. Its author, for four years an officer of the Confederate army, composed many stirring pieces in moments snatched during its marchings and counter-marchings in Virginia. The dirge used at the funeral of Gen. T. J. Jackson, (Stonewall,) May 17, 1863, was from his pen, and is included in this collection.

"Mr. McIntosh," says the Richmond Whig, "is well known throughout the South as an author and teacher of finished excellence, with a musical reputation rarely attained by any man of his age in this country. In the South he stands at the very head of church music, no one disputing the position with him."

The book embraces everything of value of Southern or Southwestern origin, much of which is now for the first time reduced to a written form. Its variety is great—embracing all metres in use, in every key and every variety of measure—with a full elementary department and fine collection of new anthems, set pieces and sentences. It contains nearly 300 closely printed pages, neatly and tastefully gotten up, well printed and bound.

Price, $1 33, for which it will be sent, post free, to any part of the country.

Single copies, for examination and introduction, sent to any address, postage paid, on receipt of one dollar.
